ABOUT THE WESTERN PHILANTHROPY CONFERENCE

The 2026 Western Philanthropy Conference (WPC), hosted by Clark Nuber, offers a unique opportunity for individuals to dive deep into the world of charitable giving. Building on the success of our Western Philanthropy Conference in May 2024 and our Western Philanthropy Webinar in June 2025, this event is tailored for philanthropic leaders who are looking for innovative ways to make a difference. A few highlights of this event include:

CURRENT TRENDS AND INSIGHTS: Hear insights into the rapidly evolving philanthropy landscape, examining the latest trends, challenges, and opportunities.

DIVERSE PERSPECTIVES: Participate in a unique platform from varied perspectives, from CPAs and attorneys to program officers and executives. Such diversity is rarely seen at other events and is an ideal environment for rich discussions and innovative ideas.

NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES: Meet top-level professionals and decision-makers in the field of philanthropy. Foster new relationships, exchange ideas, and collaborate on solutions to shared challenges.

KNOWLEDGE BUILDING: Gain deep understanding of how charitable and social welfare organizations are pushing boundaries and creating significant change. Experience a holistic view of the philanthropic sector that goes beyond compliance topics.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT: Enhance your understanding of complex issues in philanthropy and innovative approaches to problem solving.

The 2026 Western Philanthropy Conference offers opportunities to engage with top professionals, enhance your knowledge, and stay ahead in the rapidly evolving philanthropy landscape. This experience is designed to inspire and inform, making it a must-attend event for anyone involved in charitable organizations. While all individuals who work with charitable organizations benefit from the covered content, this year's discussions center around private foundations, community foundations, social welfare organizations, and family offices.

“The program pacing was great, the speakers, good food, and logistic support from the staff. THANK YOU!”

“I enjoyed all of it. There was one track, one room, and plenty of space built in for networking. I appreciated the diversity of views from the nonprofit executives to their financial advisors and lawyers; it all went so well together.”

“The event was incredibly well-organized, with enough breaks to breathe and absorb information between sessions, which also provided awesome opportunities for networking. The Whova app was set up better than most, allowing me to connect with tons of people. The breakfast burrito was a highlight! The speakers were thoughtful in their preparation and created amazing slides that I will be using in my own internal trainings for staff, with attribution. My colleagues saw me posting on LinkedIn and felt they missed out. I think there will be much larger attendance from my organization next year.”
